Material Religion: the Journal of Objects, Art, and Belief is the leading journal in its field. The Editors are working with the publishers on developing a related book series, to run in parallel with the journal, and to publish both monographs and edited volumes. We are looking for a Series Editor, someone who is an efficient administrator, has editing experience, who knows the field well, and who has contributed to it. If you would like to be considered for this exciting role, please send a CV and brief cover letter to assistant.materialreligion@gmail.com

All materials should be received by October 31.